Supporting Jewellery Education Since 1994

The National Association of Jewellers Educational Trust Grant Scheme

Introduction

The National Association of Goldsmiths Centenary Trust was founded in 1994. It became the National Association of Jewellers Educational Trust (NAJ Trust) in 2017 after the unification of the National Association of Goldsmiths with the British Jewellers Association to become the National Association of Jewellers in 2015. The NAJ Trust is regulated by the Charities Commission and aims to promote education within the trade by facilitating the availability of courses and study to as wide a range of students as possible.

The NAJ Trust undertakes its educational objective mainly through the NAJ Trust Grant Scheme which comprises:

- the NAJ Trust Bursary Scheme
- the NAJ Trust Loan Scheme
- the NAJ Trust Scholarship Apprentice Scheme
- and the NAJ Trust Discount Scheme

Eligible students or employers may apply for grant funding to any of these four schemes as appropriate.

- The NAJ Trust Bursary Scheme allows students to directly apply to the Trustees for funding, most usually for the ATHE Level 3 Certificate, JET Professional Jewellers (JET 2) course, but other courses are considered. It applies to students who are unable to fund their studies, either themselves or via their employer, but who have a commitment to making their career in the jewellery trade.

- The NAJ Trust Loan Scheme has been introduced to help students who are employed within a multiple retailing group and whose employer is happy to reimburse the student for the cost of their studies once they have been successfully completed and passed. The Trustees will loan the student the money for the cost of their JET 2 course, or similar, to be repaid to the Trustees by the employer on successful completion by the student.

- The NAJ Trust Scholarship Apprentice Scheme is to aid employers with the cost of training an apprentice. The application can be made in conjunction with an organisation such as the Hand Engravers' Association or the Goldsmiths' Centre, or directly to the Trustees by the employer and the proposed apprentice. Funding will usually be tapered over the period of the proposed apprenticeship and the Trustees will need to have sight of the apprentice's contract of service.

- The NAJ Trust Discount Scheme is available to NAJ members who have either not used NAJ educational training before or have not used it for at least the last ten years and wish to enrol a member of their staff on one of the Association's courses (restricted to the JET Professional Jewellers Certificate (JET 1) and JET 2). The discount of 25% will automatically be applied to the course fee. NB: this is a one-off discount only for the first employee that the member enrols on one of the mentioned courses, and it is non-transferable. The discount cannot be applied to any other service offered by the Association. Awards are subject to availability.
